

A call for photos exploring gender identity

The Chicago Women's Health Center is looking for photographs that explore gender identity to liven up our space at 3435 North Sheffield Avenue. The space is not large but can accommodate approximately 5-7, 14"x19", pieces. Art work is not limited to these dimensions. The work should be framed or matted.

The solo show would be up for a 6 month period. The artist is welcome to leave contact information along with the art work.

Send a digital sample of your work and artist statement to cwhcart@gmail.com by April 22, 2008.

The chosen artist will be announced on May 6th, 2008 and the exhibit will go up on the week of May 19th, 2008.

As we are cannot closely monitor the art work through out the workday, we are unable to insure art work against damage or theft.

Chicago Women's Health Center (CWHC) was established in 1975 as a feminist health collective. The main activities of the health center are direct client services, including health care, counseling, outreach and education, and reproductive justice advocacy. All services are provided on a sliding scale and regardless of a client's ability to pay. CWHC is a diverse collective and is affirmative of women of color, lesbian and bisexual women, and transgendered people.

Thank you for supporting the Chicago Women's Health Center!
